UNCLE FRANK.

Hon. D. F. Caldwell Venerable But Still Full of Pluck and Patriotism.

Calls for Major Morehead's address on James Hunter, Regulator, continuing, a second and enlarged edition of the same is now placed upon the market for the exclusive benefit of the Hunter Memorial Fund.

This second edition, larger by one third and in several other respects a better paper than the first, is published through the patriotic liberality of the Hon. David F. Caldwell. In its press work it is a first-class pamphlet—a neat, cream-colored linen cover, with large, clear type upon white paper. For sale at Wharton Bros., bookstore, Greensboro. Prince 50cts. Buy it and help build the monument to Hunter.

Note the following high endorsements of Major Morehead's address on James Hunter, Regulator. This is now on the market.

The author has collected and condensed the facts in regard to the Regulators in a most interesting and forcible style and deserves the thanks of the state. This address we hope and expect will settle the status of the Regulators of North Carolina as patriots and not out-laws.

D. Schenck, Pres. G. B. G. Co.
March 15th, 1898.

Rev. J. D. Hufham, of the Baptist Historical papers, etc., says that it is a singularly strong and lucid address. It marks an epoch and makes necessary the writing of what has not yet been written, a history of North Carolina.

Henderson, April, 22nd 1898.

University of Texas, Office of the President.

Major John M. Morehead:

I thank you most sincerely for the speech. It is a genuine contribution to the literature, illustrating the heroism and glory of North Carolina patriots.

Yours truly,
Geo. T. Winston, Pres.

Austin, Tex., May 6th 1898.

THE BOYS PASS THROUGH.

The Whole Regiment Came By The Southern.

The first regiment of North Carolina volunteers passed through yesterday between 12:30 and 2 o'clock on three special trains of twelve cars each. To each train was attached a sleeper for the benefit of the officers. The first section carried the Goldsboro, Winston, Reidsville and one of the Charlotte companies, the Hornets. The section was under command of Colonel Armfield. Although the boys passed at the dinner hour there was a large crowd at the depot to wish them Godspeed. There was no enthusiasm on the part of either the soldiers or the spectators. The crowd was almost abnormally quiet. Here and there a soldier boy and a friend were talking earnestly and the officers alighted to bid goodby to acquaintances, and that was all. There was a feeling that serious business had begun and it had a sobering effect on all. The soldiers wore a look of unconcern and the effects of their stay in the drill camp was already manifest. The newness was gone off the uniforms and to a certain extent off the men themselves. It is a young regiment. Few of the men appeared to be thirty years old. They carried their guns with them but they were the antiquated Springfield drill guns and will doubtless be replaced by modern rifles when the regiment reaches Jacksonville. The first section stood in a broiling sun for twenty minutes or more but not a complaint was uttered. The boys smoked, talked and ate peanuts as though the coolest of zephyrs were blowing. One member surreptitiously exchanged two shiny brass buttons with an enthusiastic civilian for a bottle of firewater.

A Close Call.

Early yesterday morning as Mr. A. L. Ryan, who lives three or four miles in the country was at his well drawing water a bolt of lightning struck a small tree near by, glanced and striking two other trees struck the windlass of the well and ran up Mr. Ryan's arm burning his shoulder and neck severely and scorching his hair until it curled into a crisp. He was attended by Dr. Best and today he is reported as getting along well.

The Colportage Agent.

Rev. N. R. Richardson, the colportage agent of the Western North Carolina conference spent yesterday and today in the city. On yesterday Mr. Richardson preached two most instructive, edifying and helpful sermons at Centenary church. Today he displayed in th e Centenary a large line of good books for the benefit of the members of that church or any others who desired to purchase something good and wholesome to read.

TROOP TRAIN IN COLLISION

Two North Carolinians Lose Their Lives.

BOTH OF COMPANY I DURHAM.

William Barbee Killed and J. M. Colclough Fatally Injured—Vegetable Train Did it.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Savannah, Ga., May 23—One section of the troop train carrying the first regiment of North Carolina volunteers was in collision this morning with a vegatable train on the Florida Central railway. William Barbee was instantly killed and J. M. Colclough was fatally injured. Both men were members of Company I of Durham, North Carolina.

The Durham company was on the third section of the special which passed here yesterday.

PROMINENT MAN DEAD.

The Salem Academy Closing—Prof. Claxton's Address.

Special to the Telegram.

Winston, N. C., May 23—Mr. C. H. Fogle, after a week's illness with heart trouble, passed away yesterday afternoon at 4:10 o'clock. The deceased was one of the leading business men of the Twin-City and has long been identified with all its principal public enterprises. None could have been called away who will be more universally missed than Mr. Fogle.

Short Ireland, a young white man, was set upon Saturday night by a lot of negroes in the business center of the city and in the melee a would be assassin threw a stone at young Ireland, striking him on the head. He fell to the ground unconscious. Dr. Dalton dressed the wound and thinks the wounded man will recover. The police failed to apprehend the negro who threw the stone.

Prof. P. P. Claxton, of the State Normal, addressed the graduating class of the West End graded school and a large audience in a 55-minute speech, which was most highly appreciated.

The commencement exercises of the Salem Female Academy are now on in full blast. At 11 a. m. yesterday Rev. Dr. H. A. Brown, pastor of the Fist Baptist church of this city, preached the baccalaureate sermon in the Moravian Home church to an immense crowd.

Notice to the Public.

The Telegram will not undertake to insert any free ads or notices received after 11 a. m., unless of immediate importance.

Contributions, not news, must be sent in before noon to insure insertion in the issue of that day.

The telegraphic service of The Telegram begins usually at 11 o'clock and important news is promptly bulletined.

Attention is called to these matters because a number of things have been left out which the paper would have printed with pleasure had they arrived earlier in the day.

Advertsers, to insure changes, should bring in the copy as early as possible in the forenoon.

Smashed by a Train.

The regular noon mail train from Raleigh yesterday struck a negro named Kit Watson, about a mile east of here. He was so the trainmen reported, sitting on the track near the colored Baptist church and was knocked off before the train could be stopped. He was picked up and brought here to his home where Dr. John Brodnax attended to his injuries.

His left foot was bruised and lacerated, and his side injured by the locomotive. He was, unconscious when taken from the train, but whether from his injuries or from whiskey imbibed before his ill-advised nap, could not be learned.

At the Banner Warehouse.

Leaf sales at the Banner warehouse today brought good prices. Some of the prices were as follows:

A lot of 207 pounds at 32 cents; 143 pounds 23 cents; 145 at 20 cents; 82 pounds at 50 cents; 144 pounds at 16 cents; 200 pounds at 20 cents.

All of this was sold by one party. the 1050 pounds bringing the neat sum of $236.62. Tobacco growers and sellers might, with profit, make a note of this.

Miss Georgie Ringstaff, one of Randleman's highly accomplished young ladies, who has been teaching school in Brevard, passed through today returning home.

LET'S HAVE THE CONVENTION.

Efforts to That End Should be Made in Time.

The Charlotte Observer under the caption "Greensboro for a Convention Town" says with its usual felicity:

"It is a good long time in advance, but perhaps as good a time as any to suggest to the good people of Greensboro that if they want the democratic state convention next year and thereafter they can probably get it by making the proper efforts. There has for years been a strong disposition in the party to take the convention away from Raleigh, but our Greensboro friends have never seemed to care for it. They have better hotel accommodations and could doubtless provide as good a meeting place. Charlotte would like exceedingly to have the convention but recognizes the fact that she is too far to one side of the state to justify her in asking for it. Neither she nor Greensboro, if they had it, would undertake to run it; leaving that to the delegates, but if they did undertake to run it, and succeeded, they would run it on very different lines from those adopted by Raleigh, where the local polical influence is always active and always distinctly bad, and the sentiment rarely ever in harmony with that of the state at large. There are a great many delightful people in that town and the Observer has a great many most excellent friends there, but it does not like Raleigh politics nor the pernicious activity of many of its politicians. Neither does the state, and we again venture the opinion that if Greensboro wants the future conventions of the democratic party she can get them."

We thank the Observer for its timely suggestion and the Greensboro delegation will act on it beyond question.

"Hooks" Has Been Hooked.

About a year ago a negro named "Hooks" Causey, along with two other colored gentlemen, committed highway robbery near this city. "Hooks" two friends were captured and are now doing two years' time in the penitentiary. On yesterday "Hooks" who had avoided an entanglement with the officers' hooks up to this time, was captured about one and a half miles south of this city by Policemen Weathly, Whittington and Jeffries and is now boarding at the county hotel, where he will have time to ruminate on the error of his way.

Closing Exercises.

The teachers and pupils of Graded school No. 1, will have their closing exercises at Providence Baptist church Tuesday afternoon, May 24th, at 2:30 o'clock. Dr. Chavis, of Bennett College will deliver the annual address. Admission 10cts.

GOING BACK TO MARTINIQUE?

Believed That Cervera Is Now on His Way Thither.

INSURGENTS WIN A VICTORY.

Oregon at Key West—Experts Say American Army Will be in Havana in a Week.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

St. Pierre Martinique, May 23—It is believed that Admiral Cervera's fleet is on the way to this port. The Spanish consul was notified this morning that Cervera could not return here for coal from which it is inferred that permission had been formally sought by Spain. Another suspicious circumstance is the presence here of the British steamer Twickenham waiting with a supply of coal for the Spaniards. The government declares they shall not coal in the harbor.

INSURGENTS ACTIVE.

Madrid, May 23—A dispatch from Havana says the insurgents attacked Palma Soriano, near Santiago de Cuba, using rapid fire guns. They were repulsed, the Spaniards sustaining a slight loss.

OREGON AT KEY WEST.

New York, May 23—A special from Key West to the Tribune says the Oregon has arrived there.

IN HAVANA IN A WEEK.

Washington, May 23—President McKinley and Secretary Alger remain firm in their determination not to postpone the invasion of Cuba. Military experts here believe in a week the American forces will be in possession of Havana. It is also believed that the troops for the invading expedition have already been started. It is known that with present facilities 25,000 troops could be transported from Tampa to the Cuban coast in 36 hours. No word has been received here concerning Sampson, Schley or Cervera.

JASON TO ARRIVE.

New York, May 23—The monitor Jason manned by New York naval reserves will arrive here tomorrow.

PEACE PERSUADERS FOR OREGON.

Washington, May 23—One hundred and fifty 13-inch projectiles have been ordered to be rushed through to Key West for the battleship Oregon with all possible dispatch. The consignment is expected to leave in twenty-four hours.

MORE VOLUNTEERS.

Jersey City, 23—Troops A and C of the New York volunteers, started south this morning. They go to Fall's Church, Va. The Eighth regiment, from Peekskill also goes south today, probably to Chickamauga park.

DIXIE SAILS.

Newport News, May 23—The auxillnry cruiser Dixie, manned by the Maryland naval reserves, sailed from here this morning. She had 1000 six inch shells in her magazine and her gundecks had been strengthened by steel plates.

ITALY PROTESTS.

Maris, May 23—A dispatch from Rome says that Italy has protested against the Cuban blockade, declaring it ineffective.

TO BOMBARD BOSTON.

New York, May 23—A special to the Evening World says that a British captain, recently from Cadiz, says Spain is preparing to shell Boston.

THE BRITISHER A PRIZE.

Key West, May 23—The British steamer Adamore was brought here as a prize this morning. She was captured by the Osceola while attempting to run the Havana blockade with a load of cattle and lumber.

PREPARING ANOTHER FLEET.

Madrid, May 23—The government is preparing another fleet of twelve ships which will be used for coast defense purposes.

NO NEWS OF FLEETS.

Key West, May 23—Nothing definite has been received from the fleets. Only two ships are here and they are coaling hastily.

SPANIARDS IN RETREAT.

Key West, May 23—A dispatch boat arrived here this morning with an account of the engagement between the Cubans and the Spaniards on the coast 15 miles west of Matanzas. The fight took place in plain view of the blockaders. About 300 men were engaged on each side and the firing was kept up until after dark. Next morning a squadron of Spanish cavalry and a battalion of infantry was observed retreating along the beach in the direction of Havana. It is believed the Cubans are advancing rapidly toward the coast to join the Americans when the latter land.

INVASION BEGUN.

Washington, May 23—A dispatch purposely delayed by the censor has just arrived announcing that a week ago 400 Cubans under Gen. Lacret and Col. Dorst sailed for Cuba on the transport Florida.

GREENSBORO LAW SCHOOL.

Attorney A. L. Brooks to Continue The Work of Judge Dick.

Some months ago it was noted in these columns that attorney A. L. Brooks would probably assume charge of the law class of Judge Dick, the latter's illness interfering with the lectures. Mr. Brooks takes charge of the class at the solicitation of its members and by the advice and consent of Judge Dick who wishes the school to be continued. When Judge Dick has sufficiently recovered his strength he will from time to time deliver lectures to the class on topics which his long service as judge and splendid knowledge of the law renders him especially competent to illuminate. Mr. Brooks is one of the rising young attorneys of the state and brings to his work a thorough knowledge of the law. The school will not lose any of its prestige under the new arrangement. The lectures will begin about June the first.

SPRING WEATHER

Weakens The Eyes.

There is no time of the year when the eyes need to be more carefully protected and assisted than this time through which we are now passing. The system is undergoing a change and the oppressively hot weather is debilitating. In this weakened condition our delicate optic organs have to stand the glare of the bright summer sun and unless the utmost care is exercised they may be permanently injured. If they are troubling you better consult at once the only Eye Specialist in this vicinity

MONDAY, MAY 23, 1898.

You can get the telegraphic news twelve hours earlier in THE TELEGRAM than in any paper that gets into Greensboro, and for four dollars a year less.

If the powers are so anxious to help Spain it is strange that they do not put up the money necessary for her to help herself.

The decision to despatch the Monterey to the Philippines is eminently wise, but if she had been despatched a month ago it would have been better. As it is she cannot reach the Philippines before the middle of July.

Rev. Sam Jones "sat unmoved" in the Baltimore Conference while hot shot was poured into evangelists. The Rivrent Samivel is somewhat of a hot shooter himself and may be depended on to get in his volleys later.

The reports of Spanish spies from various quarters are for the most part pure fakes but there are plenty of them for all that. When one is caught red-handed the courts should make short work of him. The morai effect on the others will be decidedly beneficial.

The selection of Prof. Dred Peacock, of Trinity College, as president of the State Historical Society insured the success of the organization. It has a worthy object and deserves the support of all patriotic North Carolinians.—Charlotte News.

And the News is dead right. There is no man in the state better qualified for the position, in enthusiasm and wise discrimination, than Prof. Dred Peacock. It is pleasant to see that other folks realize it. He is president of the Greensboro Female College though.

There is, beyond question, going to be a warm fight on the fusion proposition when the democratic state convention meets in Raleigh. The indications are that the forces will be pretty evenly divided, with a majority of prospective office seekers in favor of fusion. The event will be awaited with great interest, since the stakes will be nothing more nor less than the life of the democratic party as it has existed in the past. We venture the prediction that democrats who are not gunning for office will be made pretty tolerably tired.

London, May 21—The maneuvres of Admiral Cervera excites the keenest speculation here. In some quarters the whole story is regarded as a ruse designed to hurry up the Spanish government, and the spreading of it broadcast is supposed to hide some sinister move.

The reference to a "sinister move" calls up the assertion of a gentleman here who has had some experience with Spaniards that the Cape Verde squadron has never crossed the Atlantic at all but has gone via the Cape of Good Hope to the Philippines, accompanied by colliers, and that it will next be heard of at Manila, the West Indian reports being fakes to blind the United States as to the real move. An ingenious if not a probable theory.

The Hon. Michael Davitt, member of the English parliament, in a letter to the New York Sun, charges that the repeated reports of hostility on the part of the continental powers toward the Americans are either invented bodily in London or the continental dispatches are colored to make a false impression. He adds that England's object in seeking the alliance is to regain her lost prestige in the east. The member further asserts that there has been on the part of Russia no departure from her traditional friendship for this country and ridicules the idea of a continental coalition against the United States. As the other side of the case has been given such wide publicity it may be as well to keep this in mind when observing the trend of affairs. It is not to be questioned that the war with Spain has profoundly effected international relations and is possibly destined to do so still further before articles of peace are signed. The allegations of Mr. Davitt scarcely show honorable or over scrupulous motives on the part of England but that is not our affair. We are concerned alone with the truth of them and events alone can establish or controvert that.

Proprietary Medicine Tax.

A number of the leading manufacturers of the proprietary medicines in the United States have signed and sent out the following circular letter to the leading newspapers of every section of the country:

To the Publisher and Business Manager:—The committee on legislation of the Propietary Association of America, which has been in session at Washington, D. C., reports that the proposed tax (R. H. 10,100 now in the hands of the committee on finance U. S. Senate) will cost the manufacturers of proprietary medicines 10 per cent. of their gross business; that is, an advertiser doing a $300,000 business a year will have to pay $30,000 a year taxes.

There is no business that will stand such a tremendous drain. It means that newspapers advertising appropriations will be largely reduced, resulting in a loss of at least $5,000,000 a year to the newspapers of America, and in addition to this many advertisers will be forced out of business.

The proposed tax is based upon a tax of 4c. on each $1 preparation. This means from 8 to 10c. on wholesale prices. It is ruinious. Proprietors want the tax reduced to 1c. on a $1; that is, an article that retails for $1 pays a 1c. tax and the tax then to be pro rata on articles sold for less. A 10c. article will pay 1-10 of a 1c. tax.

The foregoing covers the situation, at the prest time, of the proprietary men of America, and the 1c. tax they are willing to pay, but the tax as now proposed to be assessed is unjust, for the reason that it does not take in ten thousands of articles sold under arbitrary trade names and trade marks and patent protection.

Goes to Jacksonville.

Columbia, S. C., May 22—Midnight—Colonel Armfield has just received instructions from Washington to take the First Regiment to Jacksonville, Fla.

This order is issued probably because there are already so many troops (regulars) at Tampa that it is not advisable to send more there until some of those now there get away. It is probably to our advantage to go to Jacksonville first, as under existing conditions it is a more preferable place for a camping ground, with better water available, etc.—Morning Post.

Will Not Shell Canaries.

London, May 20—The agent in the Canary Islands of a Liverpool firm writes that the British Consul there has been informed that the United States will not bombard the Canary Islands (owned by Spain), as the result of an arrangement between Great Britain and the United States, as it would mean great destruction of British property.

HAWTHORNE IN BERKSHIRE.

Mountains and valleys, dear ye are to me,
Your streams wild wandering, ever tranquil lakes,
And forests that make murmur like the sea,
And this keen air that from the hurt soul takes
Its pain and languor! Doubly dear ye are
For many a lofty memory that throws
A splendor on these heights. 'Neath yon low star,
That like a dewdrop melts in heaven's rose,
Dwelt once a starry spirit. There he smote
Life from the living hills. A little while—
He rested from the raging of the world.
This Brook of Shadows, whose dark waters purled
Solace to his deep mind, it felt his smile—
Haunted, and melancholy, and remote.
—R. W. Gilder in Century.

A LIGHTNING STROKE.

The Many Things It Did Besides Curing Dad's Rheumatism.

"A few years ago Dad Wright of Salvisa, this state, had a very remarkable experience with lightning," said a gentleman from Garrard county, whose stock of good and true stories is always large. "His escape from instant death at the time was miraculous. While hastening on foot through an open field toward his home during a terrific thunderstorm he was struck squarely on the head by an electric bolt. It stripped the hair from one side of his brainpan, tore the clothing from his body and made a crooked black stripe an inch wide down his left side from head to foot. When struck, he bounced several feet in the air and fell back upon the ground as if dead. The shaft entered the earth, throwing up a shower of mud.

"At the time Wright carried in his hip pocket a loaded revolver. Every chamber of the weapon was discharged, the woodwork was burned, and the metal partially fused by the heat. His left shoe was ripped from his foot. The unfortunate man lay senseless and naked for several hours in the drenching rain, but, incredible as it may seem, finally regained partial consciousness and began to stagger uncertainly about over the field. He was in this pitiable condition when discovered.

"He was soon recognized, taken in charge and conducted to his home, where he was clothed and given proper attention.

"As a result of the stroke his teeth and toe nails were loosened, his scalp almost denuded of hair, and his hearing permanently impaired. On the other hand, he reaped an unexpected and decided benefit. For years prior to the occurrence here outlined he had been a great sufferer from muscular rheumatism, but never afterward felt a twinge of pain from that disease, being completely cured of it by the terrible shock

"The dark, zigzag streak along the left side of his body, indicating the scarred path of the electric current, could never be altogether removed, although various methods were tried for this purpose. In a very short time Wright was up and around and as cheerful as a bird. From that time forth he was famous in that section as the human lightning rod."—Louisville Post.

The Old Hegelian's Wit.

A privat docent of Leipsic university called one day on Professor Johann Edward Erdmann at Halle. The aged Hegelian was physically very weak, and he could not rise from the easy chair in which he lay. But under his long white hair the eyes shone full of intelligence.

After conversing for awhile about the professor's timorously long history of philosophy, the young man said, half in fun:

"Herr Professor, who don't you carry on your history. You make all the earlier philosophers lead right up to Hegel, and then you end, just as if he were the final thinker, his the conclusion of all philosophy. Don't you think Schopenhauer and the others deserve a volume, or a chapter at least? And how about us younger fellows? We think we are the philosophers, you know."

The old man lifted his head and looked straight and seriously at his visitor.

"Young man," he said, "there is a reason for my silence on you post Hegelians. I do not understand you and your systems. I do not see what you are driving at. In my time the question we asked, the question we lived lives to answer, was, 'What is man?' Your answer to that seems to be 'He was an ape.'"

So Tired! So Tired!

Chronic Dyspepsia!

For ten years I had been a severe sufferer from chronic dyspepsia, which was pronounced incurable. I was completely run down, and in the summer season was not able to do anything and spent a great part of the time lying down. I could not touch meat of any kind, or any solid food whatever, as I could not digest it at all and had to live on crackers and light diet. I was very nervous, would have severe nervous spells, and could not get any natural sleep, I was so restless. I suffered all the time from chronic dysentery, which kept me weakened down. That was my condition when I determined as a last resort to try Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy. I had tried so many treatments and so many patent medicines without benefit that I had no faith in anything and had almost made up my mind not to try another thing, when Mrs. Person came to my house last April and induced me to try her Remedy. I bought ½ dozen bottles. Felt no relief whatever until I was on the fourth bottle, when I knew I was getting better. I became stronger, got so I could sleep well and there was no necessity for me to lie down in the day time. I took twenty-two bottles before I stopped. My digestion is now perfect, and I can eat meat, vegetables, and anything else I want, and as much as I want. When I commenced the Remedy I weighed 98 pounds, now I weigh 115 pounds. Dysentery perfectly cured, and it is all owing to Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy. It is everything claimed for it.

Distressing Accident.

Little Sidney Alderman was badly burned Saturday night by overturning a cresolene lamp which was burning in his room as a preventive of croup. The little fellow fell out of his bed and struck the small table on which the lamp was placed and the boiling hot fluid covered his face and breast leaving an exceedingly painful burn. The attending physician is of the opinion that the injuries are the result of a scald rather than the chemical preparation. The doctor also thinks that the little fellow will not be disfigured as a result. We sincerely trust he is correct and that the child will soon recover.

They Liked Coffee.

The first regiment of Vermont volunteers 1,080 strong passed through early this morning on a special running in three sections. The volunteers were on their way to Chickamauga park and left Camp Ethan Allen on Saturday morning at ten o'clock. They were a rather soldierly looking aggregation. The boys were evidently fond of coffee as Clegg made 120 gallons for the regiment. The troops were served from buckets carried through the cars.

An Eloquent Sermon.

Rev. L. W. Crawford in his sermon to the graduating class of the Normal college yesterday sustained his reputation as an eloquent and polished pulpit orator, Dr. Crawford took as his text "Ask what ye will" etc., and spoke wise and inspiring words to the young ladies just finishing their school lives to enter a larger sphere.

PUBLISHED BY ODELL HARDWARE CO.

EDITORIAL.

We have had the cool wet spell in May. We may now expect the summer season to begin shortly, and to continue without interruption.

—o—

We do not think there is any reason for dreading the warm weather. There are a great many enjoyments peculiar to the spring and summer, without which life would be exceedingly monotonous. Picnics will soon be on hand.

—o—

By the way, have you secured a BICYCLE? The roads will soon be in fine condition for riding. Comfort, pleasure and health demand that you take advantage of the low prices which we are now offering, and supply yourself with a wheel. The Crawford has made a record of which any wheel might well be proud. The price is exceedingly low.

—o—

If you wish an Ice Cream Freezer, a refrigerator, or any other summer specialties, do not forget that we are Headquarters.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

The above picture is very suggestive. What is more pleasant on the evening of a warm day, than to spray your grass and flowers: and if you should accidentally get the hose turned in the wrong direction, the victim will not suffer so keenly as this would indicate.
